George Hopman, Building Inspector Is A Busy Official

THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

AXEL LUNN, local carpenter, journeyed to his native Sweden recently and discovered that drinking a brew is an exercise not to be lightly taken.

In the pious little town of Gotenborg he met a friend from San Francisco and the two decided to wet their whistle in one of the erl krogs (Swedish for grog shop).

After two beers they were rudely interrupted by the barkeep. His order: Walk around the block two times to verify your state of sobriety.

Having passed this rigorous test, they were allowed to resume their wassail. Seems that in Gotenborg the citizens are protected from intoxication by this fresh-air treatment.

And there's no fudging allowed. The doorkeeper watches to make sure you take the necessary walk.

Mark this place down as places not to go on your vacation.

Today marks the beginning of an eventful month for BARBARA WEITZEL, daughter of MR. and MRS. ING WEITZEL, Broadmoor merchants.

Then on the 28th, present month, she'll celebrate her 19th birthday.

Mrs. Weitzel thusly explains her daughter vacationing with father: "Then they can do things I don't like to do."

DAN ANDERSEN, titular head of the city, took respite this week from the rigors of administering Daly City and just roamed around

If you call Plaza 5-3313 and give the man who answers the telephone your address, the chances are that he will be able to give you an accurate description of your property and what alterations can be legally made on it. The person answering the phone will be Building Inspector George Hopman who has been employed in that capacity by Daly City since December of 1947.

Hopman is a man who keeps up to date with all the codes, their proposed changes and any other data that pertains to his job. Each month he attends a meeting of the Building Inspectors of San Mateo county. At this meeting he exchanges ideas with persons of the same profession from other cities. Special problems are brought to the attention of the meeting and all the inspectors pitch in to help on interpreting the code uniformly. At the most recent meeting, a revision of the plumbing code was approved by the member and is now under study by the various city attorneys of the county. Hopman said that the code has his approval, and that he hopes that Daly City sees fit to adopt it. Since he is a former plumber, the building inspector ought to know.

A native of Healdsburg, Hopman left the Sonoma county town at an early age and moved to St. Helena where he finished grammar school and was graduated from the St. Helena Union high school. Moving to Daly City in 1923, Hopman became a plumber. His next job was on the Daly City police force. Here he met his wife Susan who was a city employee for 12 years, serving in several capacities about the city hall. From the police force, Hopman moved into the office of Arthur Bodien as assistant. After he learned the job thoroughly, he took over the Building Inspector's job, releiving the busy Bodien of one of his many tasks.

According to Hopman, Daly City is relatively free of persons who try to cheat the building codes. He says that he has little trouble enforcing the zoning laws which are laid down by the city council. He is relieved that Daly City does not require permits from any level of government—federal, state or city. This saves a lot of conflict in authority when schools and public buildings are erected. In spite of the ease with which his rules can be enforced, the building inspector has never felt free to take a week off to attend one of the business conferences of the Pacific Coast Building Inspectors. He was especially disappointed in missing the one in Spokane, Wash., last year and does not expect to get away to the one in Pasadena this year. He said, "I feel that a good exchange of ideas would take place at such a conference and I would like to participate in one, but I've never had the time. If I left the job for a week things would pile up on me, and I don't feel that it would be right to ask Arthur (Water Commission Bodien) to try and keep both offices going. I suppose I could spend part of my vacation at one of the conferences, but when I get a vacation I like to forget about my work."

The Hopmans reside at 64 Eastlake avenue. They have two children, Judith Ann, 13, and George William, 11. Papa Hopman is especially fond of striped bass fishing and his son shares his pleasure. The building inspector says that this is his only recreation, but admitted that he did some bowling several years ago.

WATERSON FINED $5 FOR HITTING POLICE CAR

Charles Waterson of San Francisco was fined $5 in the court of Municipal Judge Thomas L. Bocci last week for disregarding a traffic signal.

The citation was handed to Waterson after a collision in which a Daly City police car was demolished completely. Author of the citation was Officer Edward Heim, the driver of the demolished police car.

Daly City Theater Will Pay Same Tax As Last Year

Meeting as the board of equalization, the city council of Daly City Monday night refused the request of William W. Coovert, general manager of the United California Theaters, Inc., to lower the city tax on the Daly City Theater by 50 per cent.

The request, which had been filed earlier by mail, stated that the theater was losing money and that it had paid $1,293.61 last year. Accompanying the letter was a recommendation from City Administrator Dan Andersen that the theater's tax be lowered 40 per cent.

Included in the letter was an announcement that the owner of the Serra theater property were petitioning to be annexed to Daly City. The letter stated that this was a reversal of an earlier position held by the owners of the property.

County Recorder Reports A Busy Office In July

Ruth Kirste, county recorder, reported that her office handled 6639 papers during the month of July. This was 224 more than handled during the same month last year.

Fees collected by the county recorder for the month amounted to $15,613.05.

Marriage licenses issued in the county added up to 120 as compared to the 163 reported during July of 1952, Recorder Kirste disclosed.

Brohman Books Poli After Auto Accident

A David and Goliath scene enacted by a 1950 Buick and a 1952 Austin reversed the Biblical decision last week-end and ended in Fred A. Poli of 17A Peoria street being booked by Officer Richard Brohman on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

The accident occurred at the corner of Hillcrest boulevard and Mission street and the left fender of Poli's Austin was dented.

Neither party was injured.

Building Inspector Hopman At Work

BUILDING Inspector George Hopman is interrupted while making out his annual report to explain a blueprint of the area Daly City can annex sometime in the future.

Robert Nardelli Telegraphs That He Is Safe

Robert Joy Nardelli, who has been missing in the Gulf of Mexico since a fishing accident on July 25, was reported safe today by his mother Mrs. Russell Johnson of 1710 Vallejo street, San Francisco.

Nardelli, the former Golden Gloves champion of northern California and a Daly City resident for 15 years, had been reported missing after his 75-foot fishing boat the Miss Thelma had rammed another boat in the gulf. In the accident 18 persons had to be rescued.

The telegram telling of Nardelli's safety came from Carmen, Mexico.

Grandparents of young Nardelli are Mr. and Mrs. Temisticole Chiesa of 156 Citrus street, Daly City.

Local Youth Is Apprehended By Officer Galindo

A Daly City youth who escaped from San Francisco police on foot was apprehended Wednesday by Officer Jerry Galindo of the local police force.

The youth made his escape while San Francisco officers were picking up two younger companions after a car in which the trio was riding had been identified as stolen.

San Francisco police reported that the two youngsters blamed the fugitive for the theft of the car. Reason given for the theft was that his parents had reprimanded him.

BOOKIE FINED, PLACED ON THREE YEARS PROBATION

Alfred N. Caputo, 37, confessed bookie who was arrested here on June 18 was fined $250 and placed on probation in Superior Court this week. John Coccalleto, who was arrested with Caputo, will come to trial later on a little used charge of allowing his premises to be used for bookmaking purposes.

Arresting officers were Inspectors Augie Benassini and Dave Johnstone.

Richard Phillips Arrests Speeders

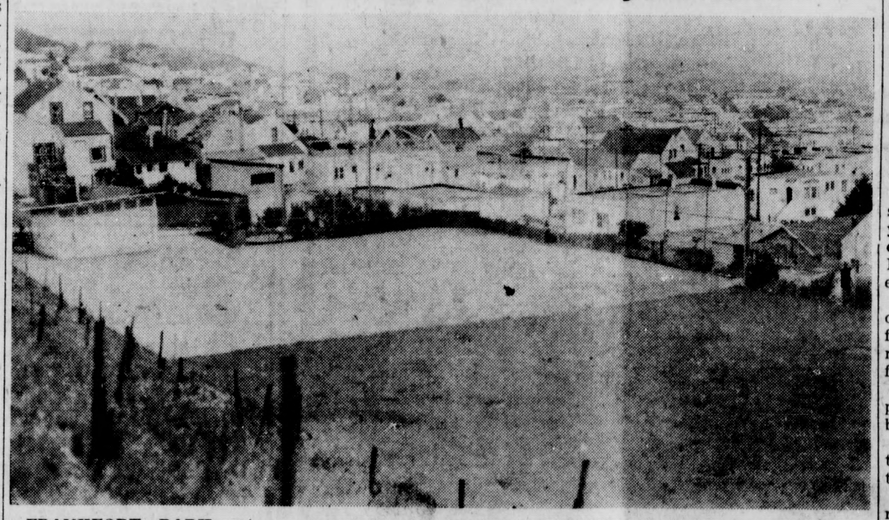
Special officer Richard Phillips arrested Robert Adams, 20, and Peter Quilon, 24, for speeding through the Westlake district last weekend. The young men were turned over to the San Francisco police when it was discovered that the car in which they were driving was the subject of an all points search.

Broadmoor Directors Map Plans For Community Gymnasium

Plans for a $16,000 gymnasium-recreation center in Broadmoor went into final stages this week as three members of the Broadmoor Property Owners' association consulted with architects.

Mapping plans for the project, to be located near the Broadmoor community center, were directors James McKay, Grant Holman and Vincent Cauchi.

Frankfort Park Infield Completed -- Activity Increases



FRANKFORT PARK gets a new look, with completion of the infield and the children's play area. The infield was covered with clay and sand was brought in for the enclosed play area. Since improvements to the park, much more activity has been reported there.

School Districts Set Budget; Substantial Rate Cuts For Both

DEBT RETIREMENT WILL SWELL LOW ELEMENTARY RATE

Jefferson elementary district board of trustees met Saturday and adopted a record $1,147,357 budget, setting the general purpose tax rate for the fiscal year 1953-54 at $1.43 per $100 assessed valuation.

The new general rate is nine cents below that for the previous year. However, school officials indicated that retirement of state loans and local bonded indebtedness would swell the figure at least 20 cents.

Last year the $1.52 figure was increased by four cents, to repay state money borrowed three years ago. Fred Schweickhardt, director of education, said at least 13 or 14 cents would be used this year to retire the debt. This, alone, would bring the overall rate to $1.57.

However, as Schweickhardt pointed out, additional taxes will have to be levied to retire the local bonded indebtedness.

The education director said "he was sure" the overall rate would be "quite a bit" above that of last year.

Final tabulation of the rate must await a check by the county treasurer's office, he explained.

Breakdown of the coming year's budget showed $81,361 for undistributed reserve, $111,500 for capital outlay and $954,496 for current expenditures.

Of this last figure, $840,000 will go for building.

In setting the new budget and rate, the predicted average daily attendance was 3700. This means that state apportionments will amount to $530,850 for average daily attendance.

TED SERENI IS OUT ON $500 BAIL

Marino (Ted) Sereni, a local used car dealer, is free on $500 bond today after being arrested by Belmont police on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Sereni was apprehended near the Cornaglia Automobile Co., and police allege that he has threatened to kill the proprietor, Steve Cornaglia, a former partner.

MONSIGNOR TOZZI TO BE HONORED BY ITALIAN GOVERNMENT

Monsignor Egisto Tozzi, well-known pastor of All Souls Catholic church in South San Francisco, will be honored by the Italian government in the near future.

The Italian consul general said the tribute will be paid the prelate in recognition of Father Tozzi's "fruitful efforts in promoting greater understanding and closer relations between Italy and the United States."

Plans for the event, which will include a public dinner and presentation, are in the formative stage.

Teacher Shortage Affects Daly City

One of the most drastic teacher shortages to face schools in recent years has affected the Jefferson elementary district, according to Fred Schweickhardt, director of education.

He said that the district has combed the entire California area for new instructors, and still remains six shy of the staff needed for the coming year.

However, he pointed out, the positions will probably be filled before the fall term.

The teacher shortage in elementary schools has become universal throughout the state.

At the local high school, officials reported that the 15 vacancies were filled with comparative ease. To date the problem has been restricted to elementary instructors.

Fire Fighters Have Quiet Week; Only Two False Alarms

Things were quiet on the Daly City fire department front this week, with only two false alarms upsetting the tranquility of the fire laddies.

Yesterday (Thursday) a child pulled the alarm on Frankfort street, causing two engines to be rushed to the scene.

Another bogus alarm was set off Monday at 11 p.m. at Niantic street and Los Banos avenue.

BEACHER BERG MEETS "GOOF" AND BECOMES GUEST OF THE CITY

A five-foot 11 inch, 200 pound seaman met a "goof" last weekend and thereby hangs the tale of a false alarm set off at the corner of Los Olivos and Niantic streets.

Victim of the unfortunate meeting with the "goof" was Beacher O. Berg, 29, of 267 Los Olivos avenue. He was found standing by the fire alarm box by Officer John Van Otten of the Daly City police. The fragile five-foot 11 inch, 200 pound seaman related his encounter with the "goof," and stated that the "goof" had forced him to set off the false alarm.

Officer Van Otten took out his little black book, not to write down a description of the "goof" but to enscribe "had been drinking" and then he hauled Seaman Berg off to the local bastile.

Judge Thomas L. Bocci took a dim view of Berg's encounter with the "goof" and set bail at $100 cash or $200 bond.

KATHLEEN SIFFORD IS MAKING A SLOW RECOVERY

Mrs. Kathleen Sifford of Broadmoor who was taken to the Junipero Serra hospital and later transferred to Community Hospital in San Mateo with burns over 40 per cent of her body area is improving slowly, according to hospital authorities.

It is estimated that she will be in the hospital for several months due to the severity of her condition, and some skin grafting may be necessary. She is recovered from the condition of shock, and progressing, her nurse reported.

The fire which caused Mrs. Sifford's burns was started when a cigarette caught the gingham apron she was wearing on fire while she was in the garage. Also, her burns were not attended until several hours after they occurred.

Police officer Gale Galusha, who rushed her to the hospital in the state of shock, said, "When I first saw her, I thought she was dead."

KELLY O. SNOWDEN COOLS HEELS IN COUNTY CAN AGAIN

Kelly O. Snowden, itinerant fruit picker who smashes windows as an avocation, has been returned to the San Mateo county jail farm, from which he escaped two weeks ago.

Kelly, who had been serving a three-month sentence for smashing the window at the Glen Five and Dime store in Daly City, was picked up by officers in Ventura last week on a vagrancy charge.

An all points bulletin had been sounded for his arrest, and his identity was learned by the Ventura police shortly after they had picked him up.

He will appear Monday in central justice court for preliminary hearing on charges of unlawful flight from the arms of the law.

HIGH SCHOOL WILL OPERATE ON $567,870 FOR YEAR

Good news came to taxpayers of the Jefferson high school district this week as the board of trustees Wednesday adopted a $567,870 budget and called for a five-cent reduction in the tax rate.

The rate was pared to $1.05 per $100 assessed valuation, an even nickel below the $1.10 figure for the fiscal year 1952-53.

New revenues from the state and the district's increase in assessed valuation also accounted for the lowered rate.

Breakdown of the budget showed $55,000 for undistributed reserve, $65,000 for capital outlay and $452,370 for current expenditures.

The legal maximum rate has two more years to remain at the $1.35 figure, set two years ago.

The five-cent rate drop will mean a saving of from $1.50 to $2 a year for a property owner whose home is assessed in the $3000 range.

Stanford Hannah, superintendent of the district, could not be reached for comment on the new budget, having left Thursday for a two-week stay at Lake Tahoe.

Action On Orange Street Awaits Return Of Weibel

Decision on who is to pay for improvement of Orange street near the Colma school and PG&E substation will probably be delayed until the return of H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of the Jefferson elementary district, it was learned this week.

The matter was brought up at a recent council meeting, with Councilman James Kennedy recommending that the PG&E undertake the entire cost.

J. A. Rohl, local manager, and other PG&E officials, indicated at the meeting that they had no authority to okey the work.

However, the PG&E has recommended that they pay half the cost, while the elementary district pay the other half.

The local school board has discussed the matter, but taken no official stand as yet.

It is expected their decision will be reached on the return of Weibel, who is vacationing in the mid-west.

Rohl has expressed the opinion that the school board will probably cooperate with them in the road improvements.

Sheriff Whitmore Will Attend FBI School In Washington, D. C.

Sheriff Earl B. Whitmore will leave for Washington, D.C., sometime this month where he will attend the 52nd session of the Federal Bureau of Investigations National academy, William M. Whelan, special agent in charge of the San Francisco office of the FBI announced today.

According to Special Agent Whalan, Whitmore will be gone 12 weeks. During that time Sheriff Whitmore will follow a course of study which has emphasis on law enforcement, constitutional law, evidence, search and seizure, and scientific crime detection, Whelan said.

He added that the local sheriff will be given an opportunity to study public relations, public speaking, office management, police organization, selection and training of personnel, police training and use of firearms.

Whelan reported that the FBI school is restricted to police officers under 51 years of age and since its founding in 1935 has graduated 3,666.

Two years ago, Frank Lombardi—well known owner of LOMBARI'S AUTO SERVICE—delivered a Chrysler coupe to a local nursery school (a '29 model) and said, "Go to it kids!" Now, darned if he doesn't want to take it away. Seems Frank got to thinking the kids would like a sedan better and so, the coupe has to go. . . . (Frank, that heart of yours is showing again!)

If your furnishing ideas or needs are bigger than your pocketbook—why not give WEBSTER'S FURNITURE STORE a look? Located at 6331 Mission St., WEBSTER'S handles all kinds of used, repossessed and closed out furniture and appliances at such low prices you'll be amazed! Mary and Gilbert Webster seem to know good furniture and appliance, too, because so far, we've seen nothing but quality merchandise on display in their store.

Bat wing sweaters with Peter Pan collars and boldly colored diagonal stripes are this week's Fall news at GLEASON'S DRESS SHOP. Price is $5.95—and the nip in the air says these 100 per cent wool Scotch Classics should be over your shoulders now!

"You know, Mother," said eight-year-old Jimmy Hamilton, resident of Woodrow St., "that Mrs. T——— will never have Anything!"

"Why Jimmy—what do you mean?" asked his mother.

"Well, she doesn't even know you go to the BANK OF AMERICA for money!" How about it, Mr. Manager Harris?

DALY CITY POULTRY man Fred Ligouri had our mouth watering with his descriptions of barbecued Spring turkeys—fried Spring turkeys—baked Spring turkeys! Best part of his description was the low price—just 50c per pound—because, having eaten his birds before, we know their flavor!

Fred says this week's birds will run between 10-11 pounds each with free delivery as usual! Just telephone Plaza 5-5775 or drop into 6261 Mission St. and pick your own. Come early though, this is an early bird special!

RELISH BAKERY'S orange sherbet has always been our favorite flavor until last Saturday when a shortage forced us to try their grape sherbet! Try it yourself! You'll love its tangy, delicate concord flavor that tastes like fresh fruit! Price is 35c a pint—65c a quart.

Another taste treat at the RELISH BAKERY is milk bread—a shinily-crusted, cake-textured bread that toasts to perfection and sells for only 20c per loaf! RELISH BAKERY is located at 6356 Mission St.—call Plaza 5-9942 and place your order! (Best time to call is around noon, when the bread comes out of the oven. Then you're sure of getting what you want!)

Love the instructions on Helena Rubinstein's new "3-Way Permanent"—especially those for "bleached, dyed or damaged hair—OR when in doubt." We tried the "in doubt" directions and came out with the only natural looking permanent we've ever had! New kit comes with wave lotion and extra neutralizer (which you may take or leave alone). No pins or rollers are supplied, but at the $1.50 price, bobby pins come mighty cheap as extras and most of us have plastic rollers in storage. Papers are included!

The "3-Way Permanent" really works three ways, too! With bobby pins—you use lotion and neutralizer—let dry—and your hair is set and permed: with rollers and no neutralizer save that contained in the lotion: or, for hard to wave hair rollers lotion and extra neutralizer!

Place to buy this wonder permanent—and all the other wonderful Helena Rubinstein cosmetics is McGRAW'S PHARMACY located at 6300 Mission St. or the BROADMOOR PHARMACY in Broadmoor. Both stores are now featuring Helena Rubinstein's Once-A-Year Sale, the sale where you buy one, get one free! Ask for further particulars at either of the above stores.

The STERLING GIFT SHOP, located at 42 San Pedro Road in Colma, has a wonderful gimmick for gadabouts or just plain busy people—alphabetized card files with headings for new contacts, old friends, etc. . . all in a neat, plastic container! Price is $1.50 and well worth it!

Rendezvous for the bicycle set is RAYMOND & SONS "FIXIT SHOP" at 6173 Mission St. and after meeting Mr. Raymond and his sons—and doing business with them—it's no wonder!

The FIXIT SHOP, owned and operated by Vernon Raymond and his sons, Warren and Everett, is strictly a hobby business as yet since all three owners work all day at Dudley Perkins Motorcycle shop in S. F. and do repairs, etc., in their own shop far, far into the night. Their dream is to build up a self sufficient business here in Daly City and stay here day and night. Shop hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. with Warren's cute English bride (a great bike rider herself) holding down the fort while the men are away.

Raymond and sons repair and rebuild all kinds of wheel goods. Their prices are more than reasonable—and the rebulit goods they have for sale are all guaranteed! For telephone information, call Juniper 4-2957 or drop in to see for yourself at 6173 Mission (across from Stockton Lumber Co.)

If you're looking for a grocery store that will faithfully fill your telephone orders—and give you free delivery—why not call the VISTA GRANDE MARKET—Plaza 5-9874. Extra delicious here is ground beef that really tastes and cooks like steak! And—those permanent specials: Marin Dell cubed butter for 68c a pound and Golden State half and half for 26c a pint!

Building Inspector George Hopman Is A Busy Official

the building inspector's trade is the condemnation of private property, according to Hopman. "I hate to tell a man that he must do this or do that with his property, but when its a matter of public safety or public health, I have to. To date, most of the citizens of Daly City have been cooperative. I hope they continue to be."

Some of Hopman's jobs include granting permission to move structure on vacant property, permits for residential family dwellings (single houses), permits for multiple family dwellings (apartment houses and motels), permits for duplexes. (He says most people don't know that a special permit has to be granted for this type of construction.), plumbing permits, electrical permits, enforcement of zoning laws, as well as commercial structure permits. Here is a sample of a part of a typical Hopman annual report:

Eleven commercial alterations valued at $19,625; 10 commercial buildings costing $103,100; 42 apartments of 231 units valued at $1,006,104; 536 dwellings costing $4,898,427; and 56 dwelling alterations valued at $80,810. Total $6,108,266. This represents the amount of building done in Daly City between July 1st, 1952 and June 30, 1953. The permits issued for these buildings earned Daly City $23,863.85. These figures are concerned only with construction permits. They do not include plumbing and electrical permits.

For the thousands of dollars Hopman earns for Daly City he is paid $481 per month and is allowed the use of a 1950 Ford car. In three years he has run the car 15,000 miles on city business only. He earned his job by passing a civil service test; it is not a political appointment.

While discussing the further possible growth of Daly City, Hopman walked to the wall map in his office and pointed out that there are three directions in which the city could expand. He knew each area well and was willing to discuss the topography of each. He was aware also that Daly City is nestled against the San Francisco county line, but he has a solution to that problem too. "We could expand north," he said. "All we have to do is annex San Francisco."

This is mass production—1913 style! The moving assembly line, basis of mass production, was introduced by Henry Ford that spring. In August, the principle was applied to the chassis assembly. One month later, when this photo was taken at Ford Motor Company's Highland Park, Mich., plant, Model T assembly time had been cut from 14 hours to 93 minutes.

Those antiquities molding in your basement may finally become of some use. Daly City's MisbeHaven teen club, an organization devoted to seeing that local youth ain't misbehaven, are holding a scavenger hunt Tuesday night.

The area from Hillcrest drive to Citrus street on lower Mission will be "excavated" for the glorified assortment of miscellaneous junk.

Q. How can I add luster to linoleum without waxing it?

A. Add a little sour milk to the rinse water when you wash it.

Motorists Misbehaving

The Department of Motor Vehicles reported that the following local residents have run afoul of the law recently: Frank Carman Bria, probation, Patrick Miles Harrison, suspended.

Reinstatements were issued to Edward Gleen Buck, Milton Edward Sullivan and Earl Wayne Workman.

COLMA TO DISCUSS SEWAGE TIE-IN AT MEETING WEDNESDAY

Colma's plans for becoming annexed to the North San Mateo County Sanitation district will be discussed at that city's council meeting Wednesday night, according to Mayor John Newton.

The mayor said Edwin Smith, city engineer for Daly City, has looked into the matter but has not as yet given any estimate of the cost attending such a project.

Several Colma property owners seek to tie-in with the district, which will soon install a $600,000 sewage disposal plant.

Daly City Officers Arrest Youngsters

Thomas Graff of 138½ Parkview avenue allowed himself to be shortchanged this week and three youngsters are in trouble because of it.

When the three young opportunists discovered Graff's over payment, they returned to palaver with him, and relieve him of an additional $36.

Officers Dean Wood and Jerry Galindo recovered Graff's money, and the boys, all in their early teens, are in the Hillcrest juvenile home.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

Heaven and earth shall pass away; but My words shall not pass away.—(St. Luke 21, 33.)

In these anxious days, when the threat of the man-made destruction of whole cities, whole populations, haunts our lives, our only sure solace is to turn to the immortal words of Christ Jesus—for therein is our only hope of salvation, of peace within our troubled souls.

A Blessing For The District

The state law requiring five-member school boards has done a service to the Jefferson elementary district.

The three-member system has long proved itself inadequate in coping with the many district problems.

Take, for instance, the recent hullabaloo over bids for work at the Garden Village school site. The bids were received on June 13.

But, because of a split between the three trustees, decision in awarding the bid wasn't made until last week.

In this instance, the board was faced with the problem of accepting or rejecting an erroneously low bid, submitted by the Carrico & Gauthier company. They claimed a major error in computation had caused them to submit a figure far below what would be considered a fair price.

One board member was on vacation, causing the situation to be left up in the air.

With a five-member board the matter would have been dispatched within a week, thus allowing needed improvement at the school site to go ahead.

This is merely one example of the inadequacies of the three-member board. The ledger is heavily stackd in favor of the larger number.

We expect the district, the voters, the children and the board itself will benefit from the new ruling.

A "Bully For The Association"

Taxes and other such tomfoolery can be described like the tired old adage about the weather: "Everybody talks about it, but nobody does anything."

The Daly City area now has been favored with a new instrument of force to combat high taxes, government extravagances, and such conglomerate offal brought about by little men in big places.

This instrument goes under the name of the North San Mateo County Improvement association.

As has been demonstrated in the past, "progress" organizations spring up like daisies, and last just about as long.

However, to date, this embryo organization has shown a rational approach to north county problems, and has not attempted a mass reformation overnight.

If the association clicks, a lot of good could come of it—both in improved north county facilities and in lower taxes.

The people of Daly City are watching the association with reserve, but at the same time they'd be glad to see some of its aims become realities.

What's With The Commission?

Daly City's library has never been described as the best, but with the formation of the local library commission it was believed that the facilities would be enlarged.

Needless to say, the library has improved vastly over the time when it was some thousands of books shy of normal operating level.

But what is the commission doing? For all we know, they may have developed one of the finest programs in the area.

Then, again, maybe they haven't done anything, as it would seem from the amount of information given out by commission members.

The people of Daly City, not being illiterates, are interested in what the commission is or isn't doing, and very well have a right to be.

How about taking the cap off the hush-hush commission policy, and let the citizens in on some of the secrets?

TWIXT DEVIL AND DEEP BLUE SEA

MY MAD WORLD

by Leonore Brewer

It can't be news to anyone that this week and next the New York City Ballet company is the prime attraction in San Francisco. It is an event of such magnitude and so much has been written about it, that it is doubtful if anyone has left very much for me to say. It recalls to mind a piece of advice given to writers by one of the nationally known columnists: If everyone is talking about some special event, don't you do it. What was further implied without being explicitly stated was that if you do, unless you are one of the greats, your opinion is going to be lost in the shuffle.

I pondered most of the day on this tidbit of wisdom, and after considerable soul-searching, faced the fact that I'm not going to be found among the "greats," at least not this time. In fact my first effort on this week's column was so bad that I have had to abandon it to its fate in the wastebasket. The rest of the afternoon was spent at the Palace of the Legion of Honor, soaking up what was hoped would be inspiration.

Innumerable museum shows of the past have been on the "must see" list, only to vanish before we found time, so there was a certain smug satisfaction in crossing off two on the same day. "Concours D'Elegance" lived up to its publicity, but Charles Howard didn't. We were familiar with the latter only through black and white reproductions of his paintings, and found that seeing them in color detracted from their interest. We reread the reviews on his work, which seemed to prove that our impressions were definitely wrong, and we wondered again just how important is a critic's opinion on an artist. It is a question without any final answer, full of unlimited opportunities of arguing it both ways, depending upon the mood one is in.

Apropos of the same subject, some time ago George Balanchine, leading choreographer of the New York City Ballet company, was the subject of an article in a leading magazine. His style was condemned as being brittle and sterile, gilttering with only a surface brilliance. If this is true, Thursday evening is going to a terrific disappointment for me, for you see, of four ballets being given that night, Balanchine choreographed four.

But you don't think that's going to stop my attending the performance, do you?

Veterans Are Urged To Remember Benefits

With the end of hostilities in Korea, the increasing numbers of veterans returning to civilian life in this area are reminded by Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer of San Mateo County, of the principal benefits available to them as ex-GIs.

Returning veterans with service-connected disabilities may be in line for compensation awards or hospital care.

Korea veterans also have 120 days from the date of discharge to apply for the special government life insurance offered them —a five-year term policy similar to that of the National Service Life Insurance program which has given and still gives protection to millions of World War II veterans. The rates are lowest of all for Korea veterans.

Public Law 550, which is the Korea equivalent of the GI Bill of Rights, provides for educational allowances, vocational counseling and home or business loans for the new civilian.

Under the same law, job-seeking veterans have a backlog of unemployment compensation payments to draw upon. Meanwhile, assistance from special employment representatives is available to them.

A veteran who wishes to return to the job he held at the time he entered the service also has reemployment rights, added Granger, by which he must be reinstated in his former position if he applies for it within 90 days after discharge, and is able to do the work.

Another principal benefit accorded veterans is civil service preference, by which they are credited with extra points on top of their regular scores in examinations for civil service jobs.

It was emphasized by Granger that this is the barest outline of veterans' privileges. To "cover the field," a volume would be required. At some point in every veteran's planning, he should survey his benefits. A good way to do that is to make a call at the Veterans Service Office, in the Courthouse, Redwood City.

Thousands Drowned Last Year

The water's fine—but be careful!

Approximately 6,800 persons were drowned last year, according to the 1953 edition of "Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, which is just off the press.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Record welcomes any letter on any event of public, or private interest. These letters are published at no expense to the writer. There are just two requirements: the letters must be signed, and must be within the laws of libel. We hope readers will show enough interest in their city to occasionally "sound off;" for the purpose of this column is to give you, the reader, a chance to express an opinion.

This Letter Comes From A Man Who Is As Puzzled As The Staff Of THE RECORD

Editor, The Record
3317 San Jose avenue
Daly City, Calif.

Dear Editor:

As if summer wasn't enough of a headache with everybody else on vacation, publisher Edwin C. Calman of the Sturgis (Kentucky) NEWS, wrote us on July 20th as follows:

"If you want a choice morsel of something that will make publisher's hair, if he has anything left up there, stand on air for a minute and then do a tailspin, get a copy of postal bulletin 19654 (dated Thursday, July 16th) which went to all post offices.

"We now have to do the post office work in the newspaper office—if we want to mail our newspapers. We have to be postal clerks and know the zones, etc."

We did as publisher Calman suggested, got a copy of this four page folder of fine print. The reason that we didn't mention it before is that we're still trying to figure what this inquisition means, what the postmaster general wants publishers to do, and how (even if they can understand it and find time to perform the required analyses and calculations to six decimal places—and print their own postal forms besides) this will help get the post office out of the red?

What we fear is that too many publishers will cut out their mail subscriptions rather than submit to this infernal nonsense, and just at a time when the whole people, particularly the grass roots Americans who live beyond the city limits and are the backbone of the nation, are most in need of the news and views that only their newspaper can bring them.

Certainly now it is time for the press and especially the grass-roots press which doesn't normally maintain staffs of statisticians, legal advisers or even electronic calculators, to present Postmaster General Summerfield with the facts of life.

Otherwise, the government may have to provide asylum for its newspaper publishers as well as for the 209,000 above-quota refugees the senate voted to admit to the United States.

Sincerely,
Bob Taylor

P. S. We note in the same bulletin that it is much simpler to mail baby alligators (not exceeding 20 inches in length) than your newspaper. R.E.T.

A Fellow Newspaper Editor Enlists The Aid Of THE RECORD To Find A Relative

Editor, The Record
3317 San Jose avenue
Daly City, California

Dear Sir:

After attempting in different ways to locate a niece of my wife's, I have decided to ask you to help matters out, if you will be so good —even to the extent of running a classified ad and sending me a bill therefore.

The girl in question is now married and we don't know her new name or where she lives. She was formerly Rose Marie Tourville and was living with the grandparents of her mother's side (whose name we don't know) in Daly City. She worked—and may still be—as a telephone operator somewhere, but the phone company has not been able to locate her under the name Tourville.

Thought maybe an ad or some word in your paper might get a response from her grandparents. Her other grandmother is very ill and my wife wishes to contact on property matters.

Any help you give us will be appreciated—and send us a bill for any cost involved.

We are in the throes of constructing a new building to replace the one that was destroyed by fire a few months ago. Should you ever drive through our fair country, drop in and see us.

Fraternally yours,
E. Norman Johnson

OFF THE JOB DEATHS

More than twice as many workers were killed off the job than on the job in 1952, according to the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts." Just off the press, the 1953 edition shows that 34,500 workers suffered accidental death off the job, while 15,000 were killed by accidents at work.

Off-the-job accidents also resulted in a greater production loss to the nation's industry. Workers injured off the job in 1952 lost a total of 65,000,000 man-days, compared with 45,000,000 man-days lost by workers on the job. Nonfatal injuries to workers off the job totalled about 2,600,000, while on-job injuries were about 2,000,000.

Excluding sleeping hours, workers spend about twice as much time away from work as they do at work. But even when the exposure factor is taken into consideration, the off-the-job death rate is higher.

HOW CAN I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I prevent ice trays from sticking to the freezing compartment of my refrigerator?

A. Try rubbing oil or grease on the bottom of the try. Or, take a piece of double-thickness waxed paper the same size as the tray, and keep it under the tray in the compartment.

Q. How can I uncork a bottle without a corkscrew?

A. Thump the bottom of the bottle against some soft surface and keep this up until the cork comes far enough out to be grasped with the fingers.

Q. How can I clean a flour sifter that is clogged up with flour?

A. It's best not to wash it, because the flour will form lumps and harden on spots you can't reach easily. Satisfactory cleaning can usually be accomplished by using a large chicken feather.

Q. How can I remove egg stains from silver without using polish?

A. Sprinkle salt on the utensil and rub it with a wet cloth.

Q. What can I do about scorched cotton?

A. Wet the spot with water and cover it with a thick paste of laundry starch. After it dries, sponge it off with peroxide; iron the article and put it in the sun for a few hours.

Q. How can I remove paint spatters from tile?

A. A very easy way is to dip a cloth into nail polish remover, and simply wipe the spots away.

Q. How can I remove old wall paper from the walls?

A. Mix up a quart of flour paste and add it to a pail of piping hot water. Swash this mixture over the wall and let it soak in. Its thickness will prevent its drying very quickly, and you'll have plenty of time to scrape or peel off the paper.

Q. How can I clean Venetian blind tapes without taking the blinds down?

A. For white tapes, use ordinary white shoe cleaner just as you would on white shoes. Cleaning fluid usually works well on colored tapes.

Q. How can I remove water spots from non-washable cloth?

A. Put a damp cloth over it and press the spot. On some silks and satins, however, water spots are impossible to remove.

Q. How can I prevent rust from forming on my garden and workbench tools?

A. Heat two ounces of powdered resin with 12 ounces of lard until the resin melts completely. Then add one pint of benzine, and apply this mixture sparingly to the metal parts of the tools. This will prevent their rusting for quite awhile in the dampest kind of climate.

San Mateo County Gets Quarter Of Million From Gas Tax Fund

Distribution of $72,041,534 from the Highway Users Tax Fund to the cities and counties of California, and to the State Highway Fund, for the quarter ended June 30, 1953, was announced today by State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood.

Counties received $14,489,294; cities $5,598,371, and the State Highway Fund $51,953,869, Kirkwood said.

Revenues were up $10,046,956, or 16.21%, over the previous quarter and represent an increase of $9,734,670, or 15.62%, over the same period last year.

Sources of the revenue for the three months' period were: Net Gasoline Tax, $40,308,272: Use (Diesel) Fund Tax, $1,997,093; Transfer from Motor Vehicle Fund, $27,000,000; Transfer from Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund, $2,733,606; and Miscellaneous, $2,563.

Of the total amount apportioned to counties, San Mateo county receives $269,574.64, for construction and maintenance of the county road system, Kirkwood said.

The $5,598,371 allocation for cities was transferred to the State Highway Fund for apportionment by the State Highway Commission to various cities, in ratio to their populations, for expenditure on city streets as projects are approved.

THROUGH THE GREEN GLASSES

By Joe Bryan

After repeated invitations—we were asked to write one at least twice—this column rises like a Phoenix from the ashes of . . . MRS. BETTY BRUSH'S . . . resignation. She is the lady of YOUR NEIGHBORS AND MINE. (We don't know yet whether her abandonment of column-writing is temporary or permanent.

Glum Face Department

If you've noticed . . . MONTE DAYTON . . . or yours truly strolling the streets of Daly City with pained physiognomies it's because we can't be present at the Los Angeles wedding of . . . LLOYD BROWN . . . a San Jose State college chum and co-worker on the college's newspaper, who is escorting a sweet gal named . . . JUDY MANDELL . . . to the altar tonight.

As if that wasn't bad enough . . . LORRAINE DEFANTI . . . local librarian stopped by the office to invite us to the aisling ceremony she's slated for Sunday at Our Lady of Perpetual Help church with . . . CARL ROLLANDI.

Business takes us elsewhere. Can you imagine missing two wedding receptions in one weekend? It's killing us.

Keeping an eagle eye out for the details of Lorraine's wedding will be . . . MRS. ENES CIARDELLA . . . her sister and the matron of honor. Enes' version of what happens will appear in next week's RECORD.

Incidentally, Lorraine was treated to a spinster's supper at Rickey's Red Chimney Wednesday night. Sister Enes was present as well as . . . MRS. PAULINE DEFANTI . . . the girls' mother . . . MRS. MARIE ROLLANDI . . . the groom-to-be's mother and . . . MRS. GLEN OLSON. We hope it was a good one.

Proud Parents

MR. AND MRS. MILTON STAMER stopped at the 3317 San Jose avenue address the other afternoon and began looking through THE RECORD'S files. We were curious and asked them why. They told us they were looking for clippings about their son . . . JACK STAMER . . . classy left fielder for the Joe Sarto team. Seems like they keep a scrapbook. Both are proud of their favorite athlete.

A Busy Family

THE RICCIS have not been idle recently. TONY . . . member of the local police commission and big wheel in the Brewery Drivers' union has just returned from Seattle, Washington where he attended a teamster convention. While there he was chosen to represent California on the Beverage committee of the 11 western states.

PATSY . . . Tony's 11 year old daughter won second prize on the Dairy Bell television show while papa was in the Pacific northwest. He arrived home in time to see her make her TV debut along with the other Ricci girls . . . JUDY . . . and DONNO LEE . . . aged seven and six respectively.

Red Face Department

City Attorney . . . FRANK BLUM . . . dropped in the office Tuesday and we asked him innocently if he was going to play in the golf tournament scheduled for Lake Merced over the weekend. A second later, a pudgy finger was shaking under our surprised nose and Frank was saying in his deepest courtroom voice, "I've never been so insulted in my life." When he cooled off, he informed us that the tournament was a senior deal for members 50 years and older. We apologize.

It's A Mistake

Real name of the author of the SPORTS AFIELD column appearing lately is . . . TED KESTING . . . not . . . TOM KEATING . . . We've been trying to correct the by-line for a couple of weeks. The embarassing part about it is that Recreation Director . . . JAMES MASON . . . thought we were the author of the column. He telephoned last week and asked for Tom Keating and confused us completely.

Some Useless Information

Stanford University does not have a single former Jefferson Union high school athlete listed on the roster of prospective football players for the coming season. What's wrong?

ROY STOREY . . . announcer of major league baseball games and Forty-Niner football games, must commute from San Jose each night to do his broadcasting. He does shows on a local station there too. We presume that the late start some of the games get is due to heavy traffic and fog along "Bloody Bayshore."

GRACE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH WILL HEAR DR. PAXTON SUNDAY

The Reverend John M. Paxton, D.D., associate secretary of Evangelism of the Presbyterian church of the United States of America will be the speaker at the 11 o'clock Sunday morning service at the Grace Presbyterian church.

Topic of Dr. Paxton's sermon will be "A Formula For Living."

Mrs. Beryl Kane will sing a solo. Visitors are invited.

SCHEDULE OF MASSES IN LOCAL CATHOLIC CHURCHES SUNDAY

Our Lady of Perpetual Help church, 60 Wellington avenue, Daly City, (PLaza 5-2377). — Sunday Masses are scheduled at 6:30, 8, 9, 10:30 a.m. and 12:15. Devotions are held on Tuesday nights at 8 o'clock.

Holy Angels church, 107 San Pedro Road, Colma, (PLaza 5-0478) — Sunday Masses are scheduled at 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 a.m. and 12:15.

Perpetual Novena is held every Tuesday night at 7:30.

SHOOTING STARS DUE NEXT WEEK

A shower of "shooting stars" is due here next week. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 10-12, the earth will be bombarded with meteors. They will strikes the earth's atmosphere at a speed of 40 miles per second, and burn up violently in a blue-white flash. At times during the shower, probably as many as seventy flashes per hour will be observed. This demonstration of celestial fireworks goes on at a height of about 75 miles.

According to Leon E. Salanave, lecturer in astronomy at Morrison Planetarium in Golden Gate Park, this shower of shooting stars is an annual event. The meteors headed our way are called Perseids. They are fine particles of debris left in the path of Tuttle's Comet, which was last seen in 1862.

Evidently, Salanave says, the fine particles are spread all along the comet's path, for we regularly observe an abundance of shooting stars for several consecutive nights while our earth moves through the swarm. The display next week should be exceptionally brilliant for the moon will be near new phase, and its light will not detract from the splendor of these visitors from outer space.

The Perseids get their name from the fact that they seem to radiate from a point in the sky which is in the constellation Perseus. Salanave points out that this dependable annual display of Perseids can't compare, as a spectacle, with rarer great meteor showers—like that of the Giacobinids in October 1946. At that time the hourly rate of fall was estimated to be 5000 per hour. If a bright moon had not interfered, many more would have been seen.

Anyone with a camera equipped with a time exposure device may "catch" a Perseid. Salanave recomends an f 4.5 lens, or faster, focused at infinity, wide open, and using the fastest available film. Set up the camera on a tripod, preferably in a location out of the city. The camera should be shielded completely from artificial lights. Your chances of bagging a meteor are better if you point the camera at the spot from which they seem to streak. This will be in a northeasterly direction and halfway up the sky at approximately 2:50 a.m. PDT. Expose half an hour per film; longer exposure to nighttime sky may produce badly fogged films.

Meteors are a regular part of special effects produced by the Morrison Planetarium projector. Projectors for associated comets are now being manufactured and will be featured in demonstrations later this year.

The committee on the block "G" whist party for Corpus Christi church announced that the next whist will be held in the Corpus Christi hall on the corner of Alemany boulevard and Santa Rosa avenue Sunday evening beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Chairman is Mrs. C. West assisted by Mrs. E. Bird, Mrs. A. Gagzano, Mrs. Conjulusa and Mrs. Maher.

Plant Ageratums For Quick Color

Dwarf ageratum is one of the best bets in bedding plants for a quick show of late summer color. As a half-hardy annual the time is growing short for planting this old-time favorite, but for the purpose of perking up a jaded spot in your garden, ageratum is worth utilizing for the value of its immediate bloom.

While its chief use is for border planting, ageratum can be used for full bed plantings or shows to good effect with dwarf marigolds in a mixed bed. Best marigolds for this purpose are the solid dwarf orange or yellow varieties such as Yellow Pygmy, Sunkist or Sunny. The solid tones of the yellow contrast strikingly with the muted lavender blue of the ageratum.

Two other combinations would be to use the ageratum with one of the solid shades of dwarf annual phlox such as chamois or chamois rose or with dwarf crested celosia. Growth habit and cultural needs are similar for these various plants. They all take full sun—require good drainage and do best with a mulching of steer manure or peat moss rather than intense cultivation.

The BEDDING PLANT ADVISORY BOARD advises that the dwarf ageratum is generally available as blooming plants of flat size during these late summer days. Planted with care and well watered immediately upon being set out, they will reward the gardener who uses them with bold masses of lovely lavender blue flowers for as long as the weather stays mild.

CAL-VETS BUYING MANY PROPERTIES

Eight hundred and one properties in California were acquired by veterans during July with "Cal-Vet" financing assistance, according to State Director of Veterans Affairs D. J. Callaghan, Jr. The state invested $6,429,686 in the purchases.

These veterans, Callaghan declared, brought to over 67,000 the number of California ex-servicemen of the first and second World Wars and the Korean conflict who have taken advantage of the state's unique low-interest financing plan since the program was established.

Advantages of the Cal-Vet plan, which includes repayment at three per cent interest, special fire insurance rates, and a "Home Protection Plan" of life insurance, are available to qualified California veterans with 90 days' active military service.

A California veteran is defined as one who was born in this state or who was a resident thereof at the time he entered military service.

MEETS AUGUST 28

The next regular meeting of the California Fish and Game commission is scheduled for San Francisco on August 28 in the state building.

Miss Mary Faretti Is Back From Europe

"Anyone who wished to travel to Europe can save up the money to go if they want to bad enough," Miss Mary Faretti of 122 W. Moltke street, Daly City, declared this week.

Miss Faretti, who lives at the Moltke street address with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bonfontini, ought to know. She has just returned from a three months tour of Western Europe for which she saved the money earned as a secretary at the Escalon Packing Co. for two years.

England

Leaving the United States by airplane, Miss Faretti first visited London for four and one-half days. At that time the preparations for the coronation of Elizabeth II were underway. She stayed for the brief span of time because visitors to England are required to take out ration books after five days.

According to Miss Faretti, she does not regret missing the coronation, but she does regret the fact that most of the steamship companies were booked solid and she was unable to take the ocean voyage to which she had been looking forward.

After the London excursion, the traveling Daly Cityan moved on to Paris. There she found the food wonderful, but expensive. She visited the conventional places and ate in famous restaurants. The only things Miss Faretti found inexpensive in France were the perfume and the champagne. A native daughter of California, the young lady reported that the champagne was better that the Golden State products.

Tip For Traveler

Here is one tip for the would-be traveler that Miss Faretti returned home with. If one visits a foreign city one should take the bus trip provided for the tourists to learn the terrain of the town and then its possible to venture out without fear of getting lost.

"Parisian clothes are overrated," Miss Faretti said. "I like the ones we can buy here better. The materials are better. I must admit the dresses and styles are more extreme in Paris. However, I didn't go to Paris to buy clothes."

Next stop on Miss Faretti's agenda was Switzerland. This proved to be the most enjoyable visit she made. She had relatives there, and liked the natural beauty of the country. She reported that the only winter sport in season was ice-skating and that this was done on artificial ice. She did some mountain climbing and visited the famous resort at St. Moritz. Her cousin in Switzerland is an elementary school teacher and the local traveler was impressed by the elementary school curriculum. She said that the programs were quite mature.

Italy

Italy, second favorite country of Miss Faretti's, was next on the agenda. She said that it resembled California in many respects. One thing that impressed her was the way the Italian people have rebuilt their country since the end of World War II. She said that war ruins are most obvious in Naples at the present time, and that reconstruction work is going on there at a rapid pace. She described Naples as the most poverty-stricken city she visited.

While in Rome, Miss Faretti visited Vatican City and shared an audience with Pope Pius XII. She had some medals, a rosary and a scapular blessed. She reported that the day she saw the Pope he spoke six languages flawlessly.

Never an art lover, Miss Faretti disclosed that the sight of some of the world's greatest art treasures has stimulated her interest in that field. She saw the Mona Lisa and the Venus de Milo, Michaelangelo's work and others.

Ireland

One country of which Miss Faretti was fond was Ireland. She reported that the people were friendly and the country pretty. While there she attended an American movie. According to the local traveler, American movies are popular in all of the parts of Europe she visited. The movie in Ireland was the only one she took time to view however.

"Servicemen in Europe can spot an American girl a mile away," Miss Farett said. "They're hungry to talk to someone from home and to someone who understands when they're serious or joking. I talked to several American servicemen, but the only California I met was a boy from Los Angeles."

The plane on which Miss Faretti returned stopped at New York city, but she didn't bother to explore the largest city in the world because she was homesick for Daly City. Her trip which had extended from May 2 to July 30 had tired her out.

Impressions she returned home with include: English is spoken in every hotel at which she stopped. Many people wish to come to the United States. Travelers meet briefly and then separate. Jazz is popular with the young people of Europe. Disc jockeys have a large following in Europe. Italian pizza is thicker than American and resembles pie. Americans dress better than the people in Europe and one can identify them by their clothes.

Asked if she would visit Europe again if given the opportunity, Miss Faretti said, "Certainly. How-I didn't see a place there I would like to live. The weather was mild in most of the places I visited and kind of reminded me of home but I'm glad to be back."

ALL PROGRAMS SUBJECT TO CHANGE - NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR LAST MINUTE SCHEDULINGS

Village Notes

By Mrs. Edith Warmoth
PL. 5-8026

Our liquid sunshine didn't dampen the spirit of the Village. There's plenty of news so let's not waste time.

WILDWOOD

Mrs. Pearl Harris was hostess for a baby shower given in honor of her sister-in-law Mrs. Ramona Treganza last Wednesday.

The neighborhood canasta party was held July 24th at the home of Mrs. Helen Mahoney. Attending were: Mrs. Freda Sherman, Mrs. Pearl Harris, Mrs. Irene Parks, Mrs. Fleta Logania, Mrs. Mary Contreres and Mrs. Doris Menary.

Mrs. Timy Anderson and Mrs. Helen Mahoney were hostesses for a baby shower given July 31 for Mrs. Menary. Guests were Mrs. Lois Courtnay, Mrs. Fleta Logania, Mrs. Fleta Loomis, Mrs. Shelia Maloney, Mrs. Freda Sherman, Mrs. Jean Harris, Mrs. Irene Parks, Mrs. Mary Contreres and Mrs. Betty Hart.

SWEETWOOD

Mrs. Betty Garner and sons Michael and Gerry have returned from a two weeks vacation in Eureka.

Mrs. McLanie Freund has returned from a two months trip to New York to visit her sister.

LARCHMONT

Mrs. Marvin Howard has had quite a busy two weeks. She and her daughter Alma Lee spent 10 days visiting her husband's family in Salinas. On her return she stopped to spend a day with Bess Hepburne, former resident of Broadmoor who now lives in Menlo Park. She just caught her breath when Mrs. MacGregor of Canada, Midge Hill and Fred Read of Pasadena came to spend three days visiting.

FOOTHILL

Sorry to learn little Ginny Jones is confined to her home for a week with a heavy cold.

The Del Guymons had guests from out-of-town last week—Mrs. Guymon's sister and brother-in-law from Ogden, Utah.

Mrs. Lillian Dorrington and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dorrington spent last Sunday with Vic and Mabs Guz. Little Vicky returned with her grandmother Mrs. Dorrington to Orinda.

87th STREET

Mrs. John Fies and son Bob have returned from a one month visit to the Dallas, Texas home of Mrs. Fies parents the G. Y. Bowmans.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Craig brought home a record catch of salmon last weekend.

BRADLEY

Happy birthday to Dove Fish who celebrated July 28th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peeler. Attending were the Wade Lockes, the Carlos Mattsons and Mr. and Mrs. Coffin of San Francisco.

MIDWAY

Mr. and Mrs. John Travinsky, John and Cindy Ann went to Los Angeles last weekend to visit Howard and Helen Nielson former residents of Broadmoor.

HERE AND THERE

The Ruth Circle gave a pot luck luncheon at the home of Mrs. Pat Mattson on July 30th. Attending were: Mrs. Shirley Nichols, Mrs. Charlotte Spruell, Mrs. Catherine Mullen, Mrs. Mary Harter, Pauline Brown, Reba Nye, Dorothy Swovenlano, Kay Mattson, Irene Denham, Lois Garretson and Ann Morton.

A surprise baby shower for Mrs. Kay Mattson was held August 4th at the home of Mrs. Pat Mattson. Co-hosteses were sister-in-laws Lucille Harris, Margaret Mattson, Lois Gallagher, and mother-in-law Mrs. Olive Mattson. Attending were: Mesdames Irene Locke, Katie Droullard, Alice Travinsky, Marion Fish, Edith Paglatini, Marie Newshultz, Edith Otto, Ann Morton, Joan Nance, Navonne Morton, Inge Larson and Betty Knes.

The Women's Association of the Broadmoor Community Presbyterian church is in need of rummage for the annual rummage sale which will be held August 27, 28, 29. Please call Mary Lichtenburg, PLaza 5-3174, or Mrs. Charlotte Spruell, PL. 5-6668, for pick-up of rummage.

So long for now.

Joseph H. Schulte, who produced the successful Peninsula Home Show at the Fiesta building, San Mateo, last year, has been appointed director-producer of the 1953 San Francisco Home Show. The nine-day spectacle to be held in the Civic Auditorium (Sept. 26 through Oct. 4) features the Harry Owens Hawaiian troupe and is sponsored by the Associated Home Builders of Northern California.

Local Auto Dealer Announces Summer Safety Campaign

A mid-summer safety campaign designed to reduce traffic accidents during August, a traditionally high-accident month, was announced by Peter Venturino. The campaign seeks to impress on drivers that their cars should receive a mechanical safety inspection early in August after the customary hard driving of June and July.

Accidents due to mechanical failures are especially high in August, Venturino said, because many motorists tend to neglect safety check-ups during the summer months when auto travel is at its highest annual rate. He pointed out that a study of national accident statistics shows a steady increase in accidents as the summer progresses, despite the fact that the amount of travel remains fairly constant.

Venturino pointed out that the most recent safety check conducted by the Automobile Inter-Industry Highway Safety committee showed that one of every four cars checked needed maintenance work for safe operation. The inspection, made in all states, covered over 423,000 vehicles and revealed that 28.3 percent of all cars checked had faulty brakes. Some 37 per cent of the cars were found to have defects in either the front or rear lights or the steering mechanisms.

Venturino joins with Packard Motor Car company safety engineers and traffic officials throughout the United States in urging an August check-up to reduce accidents. He said his firm will provide a safety check, without charge, to any driver. Factory trained service experts will inspect the folowing parts and assemblies and report any dangerous wear or weakness to owners: engine, cooling system, brakes, steering and wheel alignment, tires, lights, horn, windshield wiper.

LADIES AID WHIST

The Catholic Ladies' Aid Society Branch 59 will hold a benefit whist at 1:30 the afternoon of August 14 in the St. Michael School auditorium on Broad street.

Chairman for the event will be Mrs. Louise Bucholz.

County Republican Women Will Hear Mrs. Mildred Younger

Republican women throughout San Mateo county are preparing for their largest event of the summer in the local political picture. On Tuesday next they are having Mrs. Mildred Younger, vice president, southern division, of the Republican state central committee, speak at a luncheon to be held at Bob's on Broadway, Burlingame. Mrs. Younger will arrive here from Los Angeles to bring to the women of our county a talk on "The Individual's Responsibility To Their Government."

According to Mrs. Merritt R. Hosmer, president of the council of Republican women, this will be the largest event of the summer schedule and promises to be a sell-out. Women are urged to get their tickets early from the representative in their own area or through Republican headquarters, 45 N. B street.

Handling tickets in the Colma, Daly City, Garden Village area are Mrs. Tom Callan, Mrs. E. Drumheller and Mrs. Chas. Breid.

FIESTA BOWL IS THE NAME! Winner of the Name Your Fiesta Theatre contest, Mrs. Robert E. Daetz, is congratulated by Anthony J. Gaggero, president of the San Mateo County Fair Association.

Lake Merced Post To Show Movies Tomorrow Night

Youngsters 12 and under of the Garden Village-Broadmoor area will be the guests of Lake Merced Post and Auxiliary 9921 tomorrow (Saturday) night for movies, pop corn, soda pop, bubble gum at Broadmoor Community center. The flims are scheduled for 7 o'clock and should last until 9 o'clock.

According to Mrs. Hilda Stettler, the films are about Indians, cowboys, animals and several comics.

Free Vaudeville Shows Will Be Offered Twice A Day At State Fair

Top-notch professional vaudeville entertainment will be staged twice a day in the Open Air Theater during the California State Fair, Fred Heitfeld, director of specil events, announced today. The fair opens September 3 for an 11-day run.

"There's no admission charge for these shows," Heitfeld said, "and every one of the six acts on the bill is outstanding."

Patsy Speer, state champion baton twirler, will open the show, which goes on daily at 1 and 4 p.m. Pretty as well as talented, Miss Speer will demonstrate her technique with the baton.

An eccentric banjo player, Ken Card by name, is also on the bill. Although he clowns around with the instrument, Card is reputed to be one of the finest banjoists in the country.

Pansy the Horse will have the spectators rolling in the aisles when she appears to do her stint. Tabbed by Heitfeld as "one of the funiest acts I've ever seen," Pansy —who's actually two men dressed as one horse—cavorts about the stage, giving the act's pretty ringmistress a bad time. At one end of the "horse" is Andy Mayo, brother of screen star Virginia Mayo.

A whirlwind tap dancer, Lois Ray, and Felix Vallee, cowboy comedian and trick roper, complete the bill.

GOP LADIES GATHER

Last Thursday Mrs. Jerome De Voto of Broadmoor Village entertained in her home a group of volunteer workers for the San Mateo County Council of Republican women.

Mrs. Charles Bried gave an interesting talk on "Why More Volunteers Are Needed for the Council."

Following the gathering, refreshments were served.

County Flowers Will Go To The Sacramento Fair

SACRAMENTO — Hundreds of beautiful flowers will fill San Mateo county's booth in the Counties Building at the California State Fair in Sacramento, September 3 through 13. The booth is being transformed into a formal garden, complete with a fountain and reflecting pool, a large cedar tree, and a basket-weave fence of redwood.

The beautiful products of San Mateo's gardens will be displayed in brick-enclosed plots all around the exhibit. A floor of white quartz will contrast sharply with black French wrought-iron garden furniture.

Ivy-covered redwood planks will adorn the front of the exhibit, just below the words "San Mateo" in bold script on a black background. Max J. Leonard, San Mateo County Agricultural Commissioner, is in charge of the exhibit which will be situated on the south wall of the Counties Building.

FAIR AND FIESTA WILL INCLUDE A 4-H CLUB SHOW

For the second time the San Mateo County Fair and Floral Fiesta will stage a 4-H Clubs Livestock Event. Beef feeder animals, beef breeding animals, dairy cattle, swine, dairy goats, rabbits and poultry raised by young members of one of the county's five 4-H Clubs will be entered for the judging which will take place on Youth Day, Tuesday, August 18, at 10:30 A.M. Participating will be boys and girls, aged 10 to 21, who belong to one of the following 4-H clubs: Woodside, San Gregorio, Pescadero, Montara-Half Moon Bay, or Butano.

4-H Club work is supervised by members of the Agricultural Extension Service, a part of the College of Agriculture of the University of California. Robert R. Ward, farm advisor in San Mateo county, is responsible for the program here. Purpose of the club work is to encourage rural boys and girls to practice farming and homemaking under the leadership of rural men and women. Activity centers in the farm and home, with the family acting as a unit. Emphasis of 4-H Club work is placed upon the opportunity to make a profit from farming or to effect a savings in homemaking.

Each boy's or girl's project is supposed to be a demonstration of a better way of doing things, according to Ward. Record books are carefully kept by each member showing profit or loss in each endeavor.

In addition to the farm advisor who acts in an advisory capacity each club has an adult leader, usually a parent of one of the members. The Council of Adult Leaders joins with the farm advisor in working out plans and programs for the clubs.

In San Mateo county, 4-H Club Council officers are John Olsen, president, Mrs. G. E. Elliot, secretary, and Mrs. John Kyne, treasurer. Adult leaders include Mr. and Mrs. John Olson, Woodside; Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Muller, San Gregorio; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Elliott, Pescadero; Mr. and Mrs. John Kyne, Montara; Mr. and Mrs. Ward Williamson, Butano; Mrs. Paul Modena, San Gregorio sewing; and Mrs. H. Binger, Pescadero sewing.

The committee in charge of the livestock event at the Fiesta will include Robert R. Ward, with Bryan Sandlin and Hank Sciaroni who are also farm advisors in San Mateo county.

All state rules will be applicable to the Junior Livestock division of the 4-H Clubs. The event will be open to any boy or girl regularly enrolled and in good standing in a county 4-H Club. No exhibit will be received unless the entry has been signed by the club leader. Entries will close August 7, 1953. The management reserves the right to close entries when all available accommodations have been filled. All judging will be by the American system except where noted. Entries must be in place by 10:00 a.m., August 10, 1953.

Old Question Ducked

Are women safer drivers than men?

Well, you can't prove it by the National Safety Council. In the 1953 edition of "Accident Facts," its statistical yearbook, the Council is forced to beg the issue because no one knows how many miles each sex drives.

The Council knows that eight out of 100 drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1952 were women. Drivers of the fairer sex figured in 12 out of 100 motor vehicle accidents of all types.

But there are not as many women drivers as men, and they drive a lot less. And since no one knows how much less, the argument must go on, and even the authoritative National Safety Council can't settle it.

JOE LEWKOWITZ AND DALY CITY COWBOYS WILL PLAY BENEFIT

The Village Play School, cooperative nursery school for children of this area, will hold its third anual fund-raising dance at Colombo Hall on Saturday evening, August 15, at 9 o'clock. Back by popular request will be Joe Lewkowitz and his Daly City Cowboys, well-known local dance band. Inexpensive refreshments will be served by parent members of the school. Dancers can choose from over-sized hot dogs, home made cakes, coffee, soft drinks and beer.

Members of the school who have been selling since early June are now in a final door-to-door drive, top top last years record of 1600 dance tickets sold. Purchasers are eligible to win any of the three major prizes which are a James dishwasher, a Sunbeam mixmaster and juicer, and a Sunbeam automatic coffee maker. Winners need not be present at the dance.

Dancing will be interrupted only twice for the drawing of prizes: once at twelve for the grand prizes and once half-way through for drawing of the numerous door prizes which have been donated by the following local merchants to date:

Broadmoor Shopping Center: Berning's, Broadmoor Pharmacy, Elliott Cleaners, Ice Cream Land, Kiddieville, King's Market Coffee Shop, Kings Liquor Department, Leslie's, Lissauer's, Priscilla Cake Box, Shaw's, Weitzel's Shoes, Western Auto.

Buri-Buri: Buri-Buri Groceries, Hocking's Hardware, Power's Baby Shop.

Westlake Shopping Center: Bardelli's Gift Shop, Coggin's Paint Store, Crown Drug, Malnick's Cleaners, Mosher's Shoes, Town and Country Grocery, Meat, Poultry, and Produce Departments, Towne and Beach Tog Shoppe, Toy Circus, Westlake Barbers, Westlake Beauty Salon.

Frank Newman's and Union Furniture in the Mission have also contributed valuable prizes. More are yet to come.

The Village Play School, housed in the Colma Community Center on Dunks street, is a member of the San Francisco Council of Cooperative Nursery school. For information regarding application for membership call Mrs. Ernest Clark, Delaware 3-4940.

News From The Parks

EDGEWOOD PARK

Last Friday, a group of children from Edgewod spent an exhausting day at the beach. After an energetic hour of roller skating at Skateland, the remainder of the afternoon was consumed at Playland. Carol Doyle, Rhea Staford and Corrinne Bailey especially like the huge slide at the Fun House, while Priscilla Gruenwald, Kathleen MacDougall and Jimmy Caruso found pleasure in walking through the barrel. Carol Lohmeyer, a visitor from Missouri, was thrilled by the fast-moving Big Dipper. A thoroughly enjoyable time was had by all.

The Doll Show took place Monday afternoon. The girls brought their dolls garbed in their prettiest dresses. Those girls whose dolls won prizes were Rhea Stafford, Judy Lafferty, Linda Bridges, Barbara Sears, Janet Pope, Patty Doyle, Diane Caruso, Dierdre Glick, Roberta Harrell, Mary Lou Cotton and Christine Enberg.

At the Pet Show Wednesday, Christine Enberg's little dog, Fritzie, was awarded a blue ribbon for wearing the best costume. Fritzie was adorned with a pink ribbon and a rhinestone necklace.

FRANKFORT PLAYGROUND

Whenever the Recreation Department plans special activities, the attendance is really tremendous. In the past months the children have enjoyed such excursions as the picnic at Marchbanks Park, outings to the zoo and Fisherman's Wharf and the skating party at the beach.

More recently all playgrounds have participated in having a pet show. The Lincoln-Frankfort show brought many proud pet owners. For instance, there was Mike Goldynn with his prize winning pets Bigg and Elmer; Cookie Hefferen with Blue the most sorrowful dog. Schnapzie the longest dog was brought by Alfreda Runge. The winner of third place in that class was Foxy shown by David Ramey. The honor of best show dog was Debbie. Starr Hobb's Buster was the smallest puppy while Cokie Covell had the best show cat. Eloise, Mary Salmon's pet rat was the most unusual pet and Sharon Friend had the best bird.

In the cocker spaniel class Caroline Smysel with Wags and Dona Almada's Murphy both placed second. Mack and Pokie owned by Marsha Nowak and Ronny Sanders placed third.

Frankfort had a bubble gum hunt in its newly completed sand box. Linda Lario and Dennis Pimpley were two surprised children to find gum in the middle of their sand castles. Little five year old Raymond Kenney found several pieces easily but had trouble taking off the special wrappers; whereas the park twins Marie and Margie Weeden just had trouble in finding the gum. The older children are taking advantage of the new clay diamond. Manuel Villa, Lawrence Sotd and his brother Al, Garry Smith and several girls are really happy that they can play softball without losing the ball in the weeds. Mike Smyser and Tim Hodenfield think that the hard surface is just fine for paddle tennis.

Coming events at Frankfurt:

Girls—August 10th is the date for the Doll Show. The different classifications will be posted on the bulletin board.

Boys—Start building your model cars and planes. All of them will be shown on August 13th. Prizes for both contests will be awarded.

TACK ROOM NOTES

Barbara Pereira has just joined the horsey set. Her favorite mount is Spot. Gone to the wilds of Russian river are the Ary's children, Colleen and Kenny. Dick Austring has gone to Canada to seek a mountie. Back from a wild horse round-up in Wyoming are the Pimpleys.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Tom Keating

(Editor, Sports Afield Magazine)

By Ted Keating

(Ed., Sports Afield Magazine)

In the last ten years tremendous strides have been made in the development of poisons, insecticides, herbicides, fungicides and rodenticides. Unfortunately some are killing things that are useful. More particularly some of these pesticides are killing off wildlife.

The sportsman who, "wants something done about it" is pretty much at the mercy of the manufacturers and users of pesticides no matter what sort of an uproar he raises. However, even though the sportsman cannot forbid the use of pesticides, he can be instrumental in seeing that they are used wisely for the greatest good of all and with the least possible damage to desirable things.

Recently outdoor writer Bill Wolf made a survey for Sports Afield magazine of the various pesticides which kill wildlife, both animal and plant forms as well as pasts. He discovered that there is a rabid group of sportsmen willing to blast all pesticides and there is an equally wrong group of apologists for pesticides who pooh-pooh any ill effects on wildlife.

The apologists say that every pesticide must be registered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture before it can be put on the market and that wildlife conservationists need not fear because all phases of the poison are considered before it is given an O.K. They say that it is checked for the insect-killing properties; its effect on soils and crops; on humans and domesticated animals and its effect on birds, fish, reptile wild animals and shell-fish.

Maybe so, but the most complete survey put out by the U. S. Department of Agriculture dealing with insects and insecticides is its 1952 Yearbook and there is not a single section in its 780 pages of text dealing solely with the effects of insecticides on wildlife! In the part entitled "Warnings as to Insecticides" there are cautions about the insect-killers effects on everything but wildlife.

But Wolf's report boils down to this:

Many pesticides do destroy beneficial as well as harmful forms of life.

Without pesticides we would have to find new weapons against typhus bubonic plagues, malaria, yellow fever and other diseases.

Without pesticides we would have to pay for poorer quality fruits, vegetables, grains, wood products and meats.

Most pesticides can be used safely with the least possible damage to beneficial wildlife if care and knowledge are employed in their application.

More study of their long range effects on wildlife is needed.

RALPH'S CLEANERS WIN --BROOKS & HONEYWELL STRIKEOUT SEVENTEEN

Superb pitching by Arnold Brooks and Jim Honeywell plus clutch hitting by all the members of the Ralph's Cleaners nine equaled an easy 10-0 victory over the P&M team for the locals in their second start in the Funston Night league last week.

Brooks and Honeywell collaberated on the one hit shutout in which 17 opposing batters whiffed. In a seven inning stint Brooks set 12 P&Mers down swinging. Honeywell took over in the seventh and blazed third strikes past five of the six men to face him.

Catcher Bob Butcher led Ralph's at the plate with three hits. He got the longest blow of the game a booming three baser for the only extra base blow. Butcher batted in three of the winner's 12 runs.

Best defensive play of the game occurred in the ninth inning when Joe Lee of the P&M team walked. On Honeywell's first pitch to the next batter Lee set sail for second. He was safe when an on-the-money throw by Catcher Butcher rolled into center field because none of the infield covered second. Lee tried to go on to third base but right-fielder Richie Trouthand threw a strike to Larry "Doc" Blanchard at third base to nip the only scoring threat of the P&M team.

Manager Lou Martin's nine ended in a three-way tie for second place in the Northern Division of the Senior Peninsula Baseball league, and will go into an O'Shaunessey playoff next Sunday against the Bohannon Yanks at San Mateo's Fitzgerald field at 2:30 o'clock. The local horsehiders meet the Yanks because a flip of a coin dropped them to third spot in the standings. County Recreation Director Eddie Davenport decided on the coin-flipping to determine opponents in the play-offs. According to Davenport, the winner of the Bohannon Yanks-Ralph's Cleaners game will meet the winner of the game between Snappy Cleaners of San Mateo and Ellingson's of San Bruno for the north-division title. Winner of this game will go on to meet the southern division champion for the county laurels.

Next game for the Ralph's Cleaners team in the Funston night league will be Wednesday night of next week against the same Bohannon Yanks.

Baseball Standings

The Westlake Rockets will finish sixth and be out of the Shaunessey playoffs of the junior division of the Peninsula Baseball league, according to the official standings released this week by Eddie Davenport, San Mateo county recreation director.

Final game for the Rockets will be tomorrow morning (Saturday) against the second place Millbrae Optimists at Jefferson Union high school at 10:30 o'clock.

LAKE MERCED SCORES

Shopman Jack Loughman reported the low-scorers in the Medal Sweepstakes held at the Lake Merced golf course as follows: Saturday, Class A, Morrie Weinstein 81-12—69, Lee Hoagland 83-11—72 and Henry Kippen 84-12—72. Class B low scorers were Claude Rosenberg Sr. 88-17—71, Judge VanDerzee 87-16—71 and Perry Liedman 85-14—71.

Sunday's low men were: Sam Ladar 79-12—67, Harry Applebaum 84-17—67 and Lee Hoagland 78-11—67.

According to Shopman Loughman the senior tournament for members under 50 will be held beginning tomorrow (Saturday.)

ALL-STARS NIP REC. OFFICIALS IN CAGE TILT

A last second basket by Dick Milkovich left the Recreation Officials one point short in a nip and tuck game with the All-Stars last week at the Community Center. The final tally was 63-62.

Leading the All-Stars was Tom Costello who dumped in 12 field-goals and four free throws for a total of 28 which was high for both teams. Sharing scoring honors for the Officials were Dan Bertilli and Dick Varne who garnered 18 each.

The winning basket was popped in by Costello with 30 seconds left to play.

County Pistol Team Qualifications Sunday

First qualification shoot for the newly-organized San Mateo County Police Pistol team will be held Sunday at Ray Ottoboni's pistol range in Colma.

The South San Francisco police will be first to shoot for their marksman, sharpshooter, expert and master ratings.

Ottoboni, head of the team, said the Daly City group will hold qualifying rounds later. Qualifications will continue through October for the county pistol aggregation.

SOAP BOX DERBY SET FOR SUNDAY

Champions, 152 of them, are setting their sights on Akron for the 16th and biggest All-American Soap Box Derby Sunday, August 9.

More color, more spectacle and more celebrities than ever before are on the program for the 1953 boys' classic, greatest amateur racing event in the world.

Celebrities sparking Derby week festivities include entertainment stars Don Ameche, George Montgomery, Singer Dinah Shore, Captain Video and his Ranger and Wilbur Shaw, three-time winner of the "500" and Indianapolis Speedway president.

Three of the celebrities will compete in the Oil Can Trophy race on specially built red, white and blue "ironing board" racers. As another feature, Joe Lunn, 78-pounder who won the 1952 race, will return to make an exhibition run on Derby Downs as a preliminary to the Derby in his Scotch-taped "rambling wreck from Georgia."

Music will be tops with the United States Marine Band and the national champion American Legion Band from Kent, Ohio.

Champions will compete for more prizes than ever offered before in the Soap Box Derby. Chevrolet Motor Division, co-sponsor of the event with America's leading newspapers and civic groups, has increased the college scholarship awards this year to $15,000. This amount will be divided among the first five place winners. There will be a greater number of valuable merchandise awards, too.

The 1953 race again will have a real international flavor with champions coming from United States, Alaska, Canada and Western Germany. Championship finals will be broadcast over a nationwide network of NBC stations at 4:30 p.m., EDT.

STAMER HITS HOMER TO GIVE SARTO'S A ONE RUN VICTORY

Jack Stamer, left fielder slammed a long home run to give Sarto's AC a well deserved victory over the Benecia nine last Sunday at Benecia. Stamer came to bat with the score tied 8-8 in the eigth and walloped the winning foremaster.

The pitching victory went to Leo Giannecchine who relieved Lowell Creighton in the fourth. During his stint on the mound Giannecchine whiffed seven and allowed only three hits.

Batting stars besides Stamer were shortstop Al Welp and Johnny Oldeoe who collected two blows each.

Bear And Deer Seasons Open Tomorrow (Sat.) In Some Counties

Bear hunting, a seasonal pastime of about 5,000 Californians, becomes legal in the central and south coastal hunting areas concurrent with the August 8 opening of the early deer hunting season.

An announcement from the California Department of Fish and Game says that two bears may be taken until December 31 in the 26-county area bounded by Sonoma, Lake and Colusa counties on the north; Orange and Riverside counties on the south; and the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers, Fresno slough, Highway 41 in Kings county, 33, 399 and 99 in Kern county, and Highways 60 and 79 in Riverside county, on the east.

There is no closed season or baglimit in Humboldt and Mendocino counties. Bear hunting elsewhere in the state begins October 10 and ends January 15.

"FIESTA BOWL" IS WINNING NAME

"To say I'm delighted is putting it mildly. It's the most thrilling thing that has ever happened to me," Mrs. Robert E. Daetz, 470 Myrtle Street, Redwood City, said today when Anthony J. Gaggero, mayor of Daly City and president of the San Mateo County Fair association informed her that her entry had won the Name Your Fiesta Theatre contest.

Fiesta Bowl is the prize winning name. Though Mrs. Daetz is not the only contestant to submit that particular name, her entry was mailed days in advance of other duplications. The rules of the contest, limited to San Mateo county residents, stated that in the event of two or more entries of the same name, the one mailed first would win the prize.

The Fair Association wishes to give honorable mention to the other persons who sent in Fiesta Bowl: Mrs. Valera A. Gillette, 629 Nevada, Redwood City; Rita M. Penlon, 1140 Cedar street, San Francisco; Mrs. Paul H. Hershey, 632 Sunset Drive, San Carlos; Lucille Ross, 327 Iris Street, Redwood City; and Robert S. Cheshire, Sr., 1410 Trollman avenue, San Mateo.

Mrs. Daetz, a mother of two sons, has lived on the peninsula nine years. She has been a regular visitor at previous San Mateo county fairs. In naming the new amphitheatre she said that she tried to think of an appropriate name that would be both descriptive and identifying.

The Fiesta Bowl will be the setting for an outstanding program of music, dancing and variety shows scheduled for both afternoons and evenings durings the Fiesta, August 14 through 22.

The prize, a $100 U. S. Savings Bond, will be presented to Mrs. Daetz at opening ceremonies of the Fiesta, Friday, August 14.

Sesame seed is obtained from an annual plant of the Sesamum family and is sometimes known as benne or bene seed.

FORECASTS MADE FOR IMPROVED DEER SEASON

Deer hunting conditions slightly better than last year have been forecast by the Department of Fish and Game for California's early coastal hunting season which opens one-half hour before sunrise tomorrow (Saturday).

Nimrods taking to the dry hills of 26 central and south coastal counties and parts of counties will find the deer in good shape, fire hazards high and conditions generally drier than last year.

Equipped with hunting licenses and deer tags, hunters have until September 13 to stalk their bag limit of two bucks in the counties of Mendocino, Lake, Colusa, Sonoma, Napa, Yolo, Solano, Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, San Benito, Monterey, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles and Orange.

Westerly portions of Stanislaus, Merced, Fresno, Kings, Kern and Riverside counties are included in the 37-day early hunting season.

Except for the Mendocino National Forest, Glenn county was moved by legislative action from the early season and placed in the September 19 to October 18 hunting season area.

Other recent legislative action tightens up on the law which revokes the license of a hunter who has shot another and makes it a felony to hunt with or without a license after conviction of such an offense. For the first time this year, the killing or wounding of a domestic animal is cause for revocation of hunting priviliges for five years.

Department Director Seth Gordon cautions hunters to keep their camps clean, use all firearms with common sense and to take extra precautions this year with fire. "All sportsmen who love hunting deplore the few irresponsibles who create hazards for all," he said.

Nation's Highway Toll Shows 96,000 Killed

The casualty list for 1952—96,000 killed and 9,600,000 injured!

That isn't the Korean war toll. It's the nation's accident totals for last year announced by the National Safety Council.

"Accident Facts," the Council's statistical yearbook, which is just off the press, shows that one person was injured accidentally every three seconds during 1952. Deaths from accidents occurred at the rate of one every five minutes.

During the year, motor vehicle accidents killed at the rate of four persons per hour and injured at a rate of 150 per hour.

SEALS-PORTLAND WILL ENTERTAIN KIDS TOMORROW

The Recreation department will offer the children of Daly City a chance to visit Seals' stadium this Saturday to see a free baseball game. All youngsters that are interested are invited to meet at the Community Center Saturday morning at 11:30 a.m. There will be no admission charge at the stadium, but the children are advised to bring money for carfare, lunches and extra money if soft drinks are desired. Recreation personnel will accompany the children throughout the entire day.

An interesting battle should develop with the Seals and Portland fighting for the prized first division berth. A few parents will be allowed to accompany the children free of charge. Those interested will be given preference on a first come basis Saturday morning.

Davenport Announces Softball Tournament

Eddie Davenport, San Mateo county recreation director, announced this week that the Recreation Commission will hold an Invitational Softball tournament beginning August 17 in Redwood City.

The tournament will be open to all teams in San Mateo county. It will be of the single elimination variety. Competing will be the "B" Division Invitational section and the Men's industrial section. All Industrial team members must be bonafide members of the sponsoring firm. All "B" Division entries must be uniformed. Teams playing in the "A" Division in any city league or any registered as AA or ASA will not be eligible.

Entries for this tournament will be $10 per team with the money going to defray tournament expenses. A trophy will be awarded to the winners of both the "B" and Industrial divisions. Entry blanks may be secured at the Daly City recreation department. Deadline for filing entries is Wednesday, August 12. All entries must be mailed to Eddie Davenport, tournament director, San Mateo County Parks and Recreation department, the courthouse, Redwood City.

RIFLE AND PISTOL CHAMPIONSHIPS WILL BE HELD AT PERRY

WASHINGTON, D. C. — With the opening shot of the 1953 National Rifle and Pistol Championships little more than three weeks off, over two thousand of America's top marksmen are training for one of sportsdom's most gruelling tests. From August 20th to September 7th practically every top-notch rifle and pistol shooter of the nation will be shooting for the most coveted titles in the shooting world.

This year for the first time since 1940 the high-power rifle, the smallbore rifle and the pistol championships will be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, the world famous home of the shooting tournaments for 33 years starting in 1907. In all, in the three fields of competition, 98 separate matches will be fired with all American individual and team championships at stake. Older by two years than the Kentucky Derby, the shooting championships stand as the oldest and most traditional sports events in the United States.

The firing for the titles will stretch over a three week period with the pistol and smallbore shooters competing between August 20 and 25 and the big bore marksmen holding the center of the stage between August 31 and September 7. William T. Toney, Jr., of El Paso, Texas, will defend his U.S. pistol crown against the challenges of 600 of the country's finest hand-gunners including ex-champions Master Sargeant Huelet Benner, USA, and Harry Reeves of Detroit, Michigan. Prior to Toney's surprise victory at Jacksonville, Florida, in 1952 Benner and Reeves had shared the pistol championship between them since 1940. Reeves held the title from 1940 to 1946 and again in 1948. Benner was top man in 1947 and from 1949 to 1951.

Robert Perkins, of Fresno, Calif., will put his title on the line against 740 of the nation's best .22 caliber riflemen. In the field will be several ex-national champions such as young Arthur Cook, of Washington, D.C., 1948 national and Olympic title-holder, Rensford Triggs, of Elizabeth, N. J., 1941 champ, and Bill Schweitzer, of Hillside, N. J., for many years one of America's top shooters and recent winner of Great Britian's smallbore championship.

The high-power rifle championships will be fired in two divisions, the NRA Match Rifle and the Service Rifle. Both titles will be defended by Marines. Lt. Col Walter Walsh, of Arlington, Va., will try to hold on to the Match Rifle crown and Major Robert C. Dawson, of Barstow, Calif., will match his skill against 600 civilian and military sharpshooters who have been gathered from the four corners of the earth.

One mile of ranges extending along the shores of Lake Erie makes the National Rifle and Pistol Championships the largest event of its kind in the world. With the opening of the shooting events on August 20th a tented city, complete in every detail, will spring up over night to accomodate more than 6,000 competitors, spectators, and camp operating personnel (a full battalion of Marines to work ranges). The Championships are organized and conducted by the National Rifle Association of America.

RIDGELY CUMMINGS REPORTS

A VISIT TO THE OLD JACK LONDON RANCH NEAR GLEN ELLEN

At the entrance to the old Jack London ranch near Glen Ellen, up in Sonoma county, there were two signs. The one on the left, painted roughly on wood, said: "Private Road, No Trespassing."

On the right was a bronze plaque imbedded in a four-foot high boulder. Across the top in capital letters it announced JACK LONDON RANCH. The inscription below read: "Jack London, noted writer, traveller and lecturer, occupied these premises from 1905 to 1916. Born San Francisco, January 12, 1876. Died here November 22, 1916. The Valley of the Moon, one of his best known books, is descriptive of this valley. Tablet erected by the historical landmarks committee, Native Sons of the Golden West, June 9, 1940."

We had learned about the no trespassing sign at the general store and post office in Glen Ellen. I had gone in the store to buy cigarettes and to make sure we were headed in the right direction.

"Yes," said the friendly woman clerk. "You're headed right. Just go a mile up that paved road and you'll come to the fence. But you can't go in."

"We drove fifty miles to see it," I said. "And some people in the car will be awfully disappointed. I think we'll take a chance on trespassing."

"If you're a writer or something you can get special permission," the woman said. "Phone Irving Shepherd. He's the owner."

There was a public telephone on the porch of the store. As I walked toward it, it started ringing violently.

"Hello," I said.

"Is Porky there?" asked a girlish voice.

"I don't know. What's he look like?"

"Porky is a girl."

"Just a minute."

I examined the porch and then said into the phone, "No girls around here. Only three boys reading comic magazines and two little boys from San Francisco looking over their shoulders."

"Porky ought to be there. She lives right near the store."

"I'll ask one of the boys. Hold on."

A tow-headed, sun-burnt youngster in jeans said he knew Porky and would take a message. I relayed this information and got the message, which was for Porky to phone Barbara right away.

Then Barbara hung up and the phone was free for me to talk to Irving Shepherd. I obtained his number from information and eventually got him on the wire. A group of literary specialists, I explained, wanted to see how the London ranch looked these days.

"Well, you can drive up if you want," said Mr. Shepherd. "But the buildings here aren't open to the public. We run a dairy ranch up here and if you have any children with you, keep them away from the bulls. We've got some pretty mean bulls."

I promised that we wouldn't molest the bulls or give them any excuse to molest us and went back to the car, tearing the kids away from the comic books en route.

When we came to the two signs we stopped and I copied down the inscriptions.

"What you doing, daddy?" asked Conrad.

"Making notes."

"What does it say?"

"It says the writer was forty when he died."

"It that very old?"

"Not very."

"What are these railroad tracks doing here, daddy?" Mark wanted to know.

There were 12 steel tracks imbedded in the road at the entrance, with the fence slanting back from both sides of the rails.

"Beats me," I said.

"That's a cattle break, to keep the cows from walking out on the highway," explained another literary fan from the car window.

We drove over the steel rails and onto the climbing dirt road. It wound leisurely up a brown hill. When we got to the top we could see miles of beautiful country, rolling hills sprinkled with green scrubby trees. The road dipped, wound through some trees and came out climing another sun-baked hill.

At the summit of this one we could see the buildings. There were eight or ten of them, all old, some of rock and some of lumber. We drove past some big brown barns and came to a house where a woman was watering a lawn.

"Are you Mrs. Shepherd?" I called.

She called back something which I didn't get and I repeated my question.

"One of them," she said.

"What did she say?" I asked the occupants ofthe car.

"She said she was one of the Shepherds," came an answering chorus.

"Oh," I said.

I waved again and drove on. There didn't seem to be a sound basis for prolonged conversation.

We circled a knoll and came to a parking place between three of the largest buildings.

"Let's get out and look around," I suggested. "And if you see any bulls, don't wave at them. I promised we wouldn't scare the bulls."

We got out and looked. In an irrigated meadow below us a herd of cows was grazing. On our right were brown stone walls that looked like the beginning of a building. I went over and looked down inside. Where the foundation should have been there was a kitchen garden.

"Daddy, I've got a stone in my shoe," announced Conrad.

"Where are the rest rooms daddy?" demanded Mark. "I want to go to the men's rest room."

"There's a sticker in my sock, daddy."

"Be quiet kids. We don't want to disrupt the farm," I said.

The buildings were neat and trim but silent. If there was anybody around, they were behind the curtains.

We all got in the car and drove back down the hill again. It was a mile or so before we were off the London ranch and in the public domain, where I felt it was all right to stop the car and let the kids use Mother Nature's expanse as a rest room.

A few minutes drive down hill and we were back in Glen Ellen, a quaint little collection of buildings where the highway bends to cross a creek. One of the buildings opposite the post office was a combination bar and restaurant called Buck's place, where the walls were adorned with faded photographs of Jack and Charmain London, newspaper clippings of long-past prize fights, bright chromos of buxom females in near nudity, currency of various colors, sizes and denominations which a customer said were souvenirs from Korea and Europe, and numerous signs dealing with the inadvisability of asking for credit.

I ordered four cokes. As the bartender went to get them, the order underwent numerous changes, finally solidifying as one strawberry soda, one orange soda, one root beer and one coke. The children found a big glass bowl full of peanuts, helped themselves and promptly made friends with the only other customers in the place, an elderly man and woman who were sitting on stools staring quietly into their beer glasses.

Soon the boys were telling their new friends about our expedition.

"Funny thing," said the man on the stool. "Ive lived in Sonoma most of my life and I've heard a lot about Jack London. But I never bothered to go up there and see where he lived. He caused a lot of trouble when he first moved in up here, fighting about water rights.

"Of course I never read none of his books ore maybe I'd be more interested. Now you take General Vallejo's home. I guess you already seen that?"

I nodded that we had.

"Well, that's something really worth seeing. That and the wineries. Some of those wineries when you go through they give you samples. But Jack London. Humph. A ranch is a ranch and I've seen plenty of them in my time. I'll have another beer bartender. This woman here with me ain't drinkin'. So you came all the way up here just to see the London ranch. Humph."

The children finished their soda pop and we went out in the sun and leaned on the bridge and looked down at the creek. It was bubbling in a secret, intimate sort of way. The scene was quiet and sunny and rather beautiful. Probably hadn't changed much since London's day. I was glad we had come.

WRECKS COST $200

Accidents—$200!

Did you include that figure in your family budget last year? That was the average cost of accidents per family in 1952, according to the National Safety Council.

"Accident Fact," the Council's statistical yearbook, which is just off the press, puts the national accident cost at an average of $200 per household. There was one accidental death in 458 households and one disabling injury in every five households.

First 25 Miles Of Jaunt Are Cited As The Most Hazardous

The first 25 miles away from home are the most hazardous when you're driving an automobile.

"Accident Facts,' 'the National Safety Council's new statistical yearbook, shows that 61 per cent of the drivers involved in the 33,000 fatal motor vehicle accidents last year lived within 25 miles of where the accident occurred, 21 per cent lived elsewhere in the state, and 18 per cent out of the state.

Seventy-three per cent of the drivers involved in all motor vehicle accidents also lived within 25 miles of where the accident occurred. Seventeen per cent lived elsewhere in the state, and 10 per cent outside the state.

COLUMNIST JANE KEITH SHOWS HER HANDIWORK

JANE KEITH points to her column in THE SHOPPING NEWS while son Malcolm and daughter Barbara look on. The two children are too young yet to tell if they possess the inherent writing talent which comes from Mrs. Keith's side of the family. THE RECORD photo

The Record At Work

Meet Jane Keith— Spare Time Columnist

Oldest columnist employed by THE RECORD, from the standpoint of service, is Mrs. Jane Keith of 118 East Vista avenue who has been turning out the Shopping Block which appears weekly in THE SHOPPING NEWS for the past two years. Previous to the Shopping Block, Mrs. Keith had written a column entitled Dear Parents.

The Shopping Block has a rather unique history behind it. Mrs. Keith conceived it first when talking to an old friend of her family's in Utah. He was the famous writer of western novels, Frank C. Robertson. Robertson authors a column named the Chopping Block for a chain of Rocky Mountain newspapers. Mrs. Keith told him that someday she was going to write a column named the Shopping Block. He informed her "that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery." Mrs. Keith now flatters her friend. Her first column appeared as an experiment when Bill Katz was working for the newspaper. It clicked and has been running ever since.

According to Mrs. Keith, she has never set down at her typewriter and batted out a column because she has never had that much time. In addition to her column writing, Mrs. Keith teaches at the Toyland Nursery school, keeps house for her husband Charles, an engineer for D. & N. Walters Co., minds her children Barbara, 14, and Malcolm, 7, and is on the city service list as an assistant librarian. She will assist at the library while the girls go on vacation, beginning next week.

"I enjoy digging out my news items," Mrs. Keith said. She denied that items are handed to her gratis except on rare occasions. On her expeditions to gather news for her column, the children often accompany her. She said that she enjoyed them and that she didn't believe in delegating the responsibility of their conduct to her mother Mrs. Polly Scovil who shares the Keith home.

A native of Utah, Mrs. Keith came to California many years ago. She attended the University of California taking English courses but spending most of her time delving into Oriental Philosophy and Anthropology. In spite of her busy schedule, the lady columnist finds time to read at least a book a day. She is fond of poetry as well as fiction and non-fiction. She refused to name a favorite author but did mention Thomas Mann, Marcel Proust and T. S. Eliot.

Indicating that Mrs. Keith comes by her writing ability naturally is the fact that her sister Florence Stumpf will have a book published in October. Her brother Keith has retired from the radio script writing business to operate jewelry stores in Utah and her brother Ray is a former columnist on the Springville, Utah, HERALD. Mrs. Stumpf is an assistant director of physical education at the University of California and has collaberated on "Sports In American Life" which is a cultural study of sports and its spectators. Brother Keith's script writing activities included a stint at San Jose's station KEEN.

Mrs. Keith's writing activities began early in life when she won first prize in a poetry contest competing with students from all parts of the state of Utah. She was in junior high school at that time. Poetry is her first love still, with personality sketches a close second. She has written childrens stories, but says that her experience as a teacher of children has convinced her that they aren't good enough to publish as yet. She does have hopes of publishing material in the field of creative writing some time in the future. She claims that her work on the Shopping Block is intended to keep the rapport between her fingers and her mind which a writer must have. She is in favor of maintaining this rapport and thanks Frances Nier of the Daly City library staff for "shoving her into column writing."

"Most of my writing is done on a copy table with a portable typewriter," Mrs. Keith said. "I like a portable. I can take it anywhere and that makes it possible for me to do my work in snatches in spite of the five or six persons who are about the house."

The lady admits that the notes she takes for her column are very sketchy. She says that she carries most of the material in her head, except for prices. She always writes them down. The Shopping Block runs two full columns per week in the SHOPPING NEWS; this is approximately 81,120 words per year. This is over 1,000 sheets of paper and several typewriter ribbons. Most persons would think this was a full time job, but not Mrs. Keith. She does it in her "spare time."

STATE SUPPORT UP FOR COUNTY SCHOOLS

The 30 school districts in San Mateo county will receive considerably more in state apportionment for 1953-54 than they did for last year, 1952-53, California Taxpayers' association said today.

The new constitutional requirement is that, out of the $180 per pupil state school fund, each district shall get at least $120 per pupil, compared with $90 in the earlier constitutional provision.

The amount to the individual districts may go much higher than $120 per pupil, based on the new apportionment formula adopted by the 1953 state legislature.

Local property taxes in the county for school districts for 1952-53—the last school year—reached $13,426,475, an average rate county-wide of $3.21 per $100 of taxable value for school district purposes alone. All school district levies are included.

State support for the school districts in the county for last year, 1952-53, reached $6,967,894, the equivalent of an average property tax rate county-wide of $1.67 per $100 of taxable valuation.

Statewide, school districts will receive about $367,000.000 out of the state treasurery for 1953-54 (state budget figure), compared to the $280,000,000 they received for 1952-53. Property taxes for all school district purposes, statewide, reached almost $394,000,000 for last year.

Recognizing that county and statewide figures must be generalizations and that the situation in each school district differs due to local conditions, the Taxpayers' association declared that:

"California's school districts for 1953-54 will have the biggest single 'bonus' of new state money that they have ever had.

"If local taxpayers want to protect this 'bonus'—or part of it—for themselves in local tax reduction, they will need to act during this week of August, when local school boards take final action on school budgets."

8600 AMERICANS WALKED TO DEATH

Last year 8,600 Americans literally walked themselves to death. They were pedestrians killed in motor vehicle accidents.

"Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, points out that pedestrian deaths were highest among city dwellers in 1952, with 5,450 killed in urban areas and 3,150 in rural.

In 3,000 of the fatal pedestrian accidents, the victims were 65 years or older, according to the 1953 edition of the yearbook.

Of all pedestrians killed, one in every 12 had a physical defect, such as defective hearing, defective eyesight, or illness.

Fuchsias Are Ideal For Garden Novices

Among the most popular and delightful plants for California gardeners are the dainty, but hardy, multi-colored fuchsias, particularly ideal for beginning gardeners, since in mild climates they are easily grown and allow a generous leeway for mistakes.

Requiring shade and only filtered sunlight, fuchsias are especially resplendent and gloriously floral in the coastal regions. But California nurserymen have developed hybrids of orange and red singles and some double varieties that, given a shady location, will grow and flower during the hot summers of the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys.

Many believe that the hanging basket types, now available in nurseries almost everywhere in California, show fuchsias' beautiful display of pendant blooms to best advantage, as well as adding color to porches, patios and terraces.

However, the more than 2,000 varieties of fuchsias now in existence offer tremendous opportunities for all types of landscaping, since they can be easily trained into bush, tree, pot, hanging basket or espaliered forms.

In whatever form they are raised, fuchsias must not be allowed to dry out. Water them with a mist spray from an adjustable nozzle. The mist will wash away bugs that might attack the plant, as well as create the humid, moist atmosphere in which fuchsias thrive. Soil within the radius of the roots should constantly be kept moist. A site that provides filtered sunlight and very little wind is best, as the leaves burn easily and the trunk readily becomes twisted by dry breezes. Fuchsias will usually prove ideal for the east side of your home, where sun-demanding flowers will not bloom. They grow well under high branching trees and especially well in lath houses. In all cases make certain that they do not suffer from the sun's hot rays from midday on.

250.000.000 MAN DAYS LOST YEARLY DUE TO AUTO MISHAPS

A million workers would have to toil more than a year to make up for the time lost in 1952 due to occupational accidents, according to the National Safety Council.

"Accident Facts," the Council's statistical yearbook just off the press, shows that the time lost last year as a result of work injuries amounted to 250,000,000 man-days. This includes not only time lost by the employees who were injured, but also that lost by those who stopped work to help the injured or out of curiosity.

Fifteen thousand workers were killed and 2,000,000 injured in 1952, according to the Council, but last year still was one of the safest years in history for the nation's industries.

75% ROAD MISHAPS

The straight and narrow path can lead to trouble!

Seventy-seven per cent of the fatal motor vehicle accidents last year occurred on straight roads, according to the 1953 edition of "Accident Facts," the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook.

Unfavorable road conditions, such as a wet, muddy, snowy or icy surface, were reported in only one out of five fatal accidents.

Knowledge is Power

(1) The answer to this question depends on several things. For instance, suggests Hank Bowman in Motor Trend magazine, if you use your car for business, you may want a new model to make a good impression on your customers. If you are the type that must keep up with the Joneses, chances are you'll trade in your car every year, whether it's smart economically or not. Of course, if your present car is so old it requires frequent expensive repairs, you don't have much choice.

You don't gain by trading a car every year, if you do a normal amount of driving. Largest depreciation percentage appears to occur during the second year, where the range is from three to 32 per cent of the factory price.

(2) He's the millionaire hotel owner who took full-page advertisements in several of the nation's leading magazines to print a prayer. The advertisement which appeared July 4, 1952, shows Uncle Sam on his knees praying to God for peace. The ad is part of Hilton's personal campaign, "America On Its Knees," to help today's businessmen return to God. More than 200,000 persons who requested copies of the prayer received them free.

(3) Most of them are, according to the San Francisco St. Vincent de Paul Society. The society employs parolees in its warehouse. They are fresh from San Quentin prison. The only agreement made with the parolee is that he will tell the Society if he decides to renew criminal activities. Each ex-prisoner has the phone number of a society official, and he may call any time of the day or night when he's tempted to commit a crime. The official agrees to talk with the parolee and try to help him over the rough spot, much as Alcoholics Anonymous do with potential drunks. Last year the society hired 95 parolees to help them get back into civilian life. Only three wound up in prison again.

Waves Will Accept A Few Enlistments

A limited number of young girls between the ages of 18 and 25 are being selected for the Navy WAVES.

Navy experience opens new doors of opportunity to you, for Navy training is carefully directed to discover and develop individual talents. You have opportunity for specialized instruction and self-improvement the Navy way, and you earn while you learn. You advance in rate and pay as you become qualified.

WAVES have successfully filled approximately 450 different kinds of Navy jobs. They will continue to serve in the regular Navy in all appropriate fields, such as communications, supply, aviation, general administration, and, particularly, in hospital work. Additional and diversified types of work are being added as fast as the Navy finds them to be appropriate and useful.

You may be assigned to duty at shore stations overseas, as well as in the United Staates. Wherever you may be stationed, you will find new and stimulating surroundings for both work and play. Each year you will receive thirty days vacation with pay.

Inquire today, at your local Navy recruiting station, before the limited quota is filled. An hour of your time may bring you generous and satisfying dividends in training and travel, along with a secure, well-paid career.

Q. How can I remove a glass stopper that is stuck?

A. Pour a few drops of glycerine around the top of the stuck stopper. It may take a few minutes, hours or days to soak through, depending upon how badly stuck the stopper is, but eventually it will enable you to withdraw the stopper with ease.

This demonstration showed me the way to a better deal!

I'd been planning to buy a higher-priced car until I found out all Chevrolet offered—and how much I could save!

You get more power on less gas

That's because Chevrolet's two great valve-in-head engines are high-compression engines. In Powerglide* models, you get the most powerful engine in Chevrolet's field — the new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame." Gearshift models offer the advanced 108-h.p "Thrift-King" engine.

And it's the lowest-priced line

A demonstration will show you that Chevrolet offers just about everything you could want. Yet it's the lowest-priced line in the low-price field.

*Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine optional on "Two-Ten" and Bel Air models at extra cost.

You're "sitting pretty" behind the wheel

Take this Bel Air model. First thing you'll notice is the quality of the interior. Rich-looking appointments. Roomy seats with foam rubber cushions. Turn the key to start the engine and you're ready to go.

You can see all around

You look out and down through a wide, curved, one-piece windshield. The panoramic rear window and big side windows provide a clear view in all directions.

Biggest brakes for smoother, easier stops

An easy nudge on the pedal brings smooth, positive response—right now! Chevrolet's improved brakes are the largest in the low-price field.

It's heavier for better roadability

You're in for a pleasant surprise at the smooth, steady, big-car ride of this new Chevrolet. One reason is that, model for model, Chevrolet will weigh up to 200 pounds more than the other low-priced cars.

You get greater getaway with the new Powerglide*

A lot finer performance on a lot less gas. That's what you get with the new Powerglide automatic transmission. There's no more advanced automatic transmission at any price.
